Patrick T. Skacel
Member

Mr. Skacel was born in Natrona Heights, Pennsylvania in 1965. He was admitted to the New York State Bar in 2000 and the District of Columbia Bar in 2001. He is also registered to practice before the United States Patent and Trademark Office.

Mr. Skacel earned his B.S. in biology from Albright College in 1987 and his J.D. from Fordham University School of Law in 1999, where he served as a Notes and Articles Editor of the Fordham International Law Journal. Prior to earning his law degree, Mr. Skacel gained biotechnology research experience in both academic and industry settings where he researched mammalian receptor systems and their functions and evaluated the pharmacokinetics and metabolism of investigational new drugs and drug candidates.

Prior to joining the firm, Mr. Skacel practiced at an intellectual property boutique in New York City and in the Technology Group of a general practice firm in Washington. Mr. Skacel's practice is focused on patent prosecution, litigation, and the preparation of patentability, validity and infringement opinions, primarily in the fields of biotechnology and pharmaceuticals.
