

Support Staff

Welcome to Rothwell Figg! As one of the nation's premiere law firms, we're always on the lookout for talented, dedicated professionals to join our team. Over the past decades, we've grown into the firm we are today because of our focus on professional and personal excellence, a clients-first perspective, and our understanding of the importance of serving both the legal profession and the society we're part of. Everyone at Rothwell Figg is a valued member of our team, and everyone plays an important role in our success.

We believe in high standards, and great work, and strive to deliver it every day, for every client. We also believe in working side-by-side with people we like. We are very much a team, and provide extensive support for ongoing training and career development as well as placing a very high priority on respect and professionalism.

Diversity and inclusion are important at our firm, too. We place a special emphasis on candidates from diverse backgrounds, and work hard to support and promote the development of women in the legal profession, at all levels.

If you enjoy working hard with great people, are a team player and a self-starter, and above all, recognize that what a law firm is all about is our clients, Rothwell Figg might be the right place for the next stage of your career. We have a wide range of staff employment opportunities for people with integrity, a strong work ethic, and high standards.
