Rothwell Figg is proud to sponsor the Leahy Institute of Advanced Patent Studies. This will be the seventh annual conference conducted by The Naples Roundtable, Inc., a 501(c)(3) educational corporation.

For the last several years these conferences have been known as the Leahy Institute of Advanced Patent Studies in honor of the contributions to patent law of Senator Patrick Leahy (D-VT). The Leahy Institute brings together leading experts in patent law to exchange ideas on how to improve the patent system. The Institute marks a radical departure from the classic lecture format CLE program. Instead, participation is limited to recognized experts and structured to facilitate free discussions and exchanges of ideas on the hottest patent law topics of the day. Participation in the Institute is by invitation only.
