

Dan Shores at MassBio Webinar on Translating Institutional Science Into Commercial Reality

Speaking Engagement
11.18.20

Partner Dan Shores will participate in a MassBio virtual roundtable titled "Translating Institutional Science Into Commercial Reality" on November 18, 2020, at 12 pm ET.

In the virtual roundtable, Dan and other experts will discuss the challenges and triumphs of translating science generated within large area educational/research institutions into commercial and therapeutic reality. Achieving this goal requires meeting the unique challenges involved in satisfying the sometimes divergent institutional and commercial interests of the key players involved. The panel will attempt to shed light on these issues that persist in our biotechnology ecosystem.
